EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The organization pushed for a more concerted effort to expand the reach of our branding, and therefore increase our exposure to potential clients in need of assistance. Continued work on our web site added the beginning stages of a “how to” business guide, more business spot light videos and entrepreneurial profiles, and content geared toward our county’s predominant small business base.

The launch of the Business Alliance encountered scheduling difficulties in attracting attendees for its inaugural run, with an early 2018 relaunch planned.

Several projects remained in site selection phase throughout the year, and encouraging signs showed an increase in traffic on the web site, entrepreneur portals there, and inquiries into doing business in the county.

The organization began planning and production of an investment guide with the intended result of generating more contributions and allowing new or expanded services to be offered.
